

PRESIDENTIAL WHO'S WHO

AMONG BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL ACHIEVERS

REMEMBER THE PAST, CHALLENGE THE FUTURE

MAY 23, 2011

Dear Chris J. Carlino,

I would like to take this opportunity to congratulate you on your inclusion in The Presidential Who's Who Among Business and Professional Achievers and to welcome you personally. Our family of prestigious professionals is fortunate to have someone of your caliber among us.

I trust you will find being listed and having convenient access to information about other masters to be of extreme mutual benefit. As you already know, you will be appearing in the section dedicated to your area of expertise. Our purpose for formatting the directory in this fashion is twofold. It facilitates the establishment of both specialty specific and interdisciplinary business relationships.

When you collaborate with our membership, you know you are working with the best of the best. Like yourself, in addition to having a reputation of excellence and integrity, each member has a track record of exceptional accomplishment.

My staff and I take great pride in the caliber of achievers that we give an extra measure of recognition to each year. It is your greatness that makes The Presidential Who's Who Among Business and Professional Achievers such an esteemed publication. We greatly appreciate your decision to affiliate with us and look forward to many years of keeping you visible and in touch where it counts.

Sincerely,

Frank Ciaccio, CEO
